

June, 2020

Dear UConn Income Tax School Participant,

Every year, we look forward to the UConn Income Tax School with this year having been scheduled for November 17 -18. Given the concerns around COVID-19 and the uncertainty of it in the coming months, we have made the difficult decision to cancel the 2020 UConn Income Tax School.

The health and safety of the participants, speakers and employees are our top priority. We are disappointed that we are unable to hold this event but feel it is the right decision based on the information we currently have.

If you wish to participate in a 2-day online seminar sponsored by the University of Illinois to meet your CE requirements and need further information, please contact them directly at www.TaxSchool.illinois.edu. I will forward a direct link to you in mid-July when it becomes available.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Emma Bojinova".

Emma Bojinova
Lecturer and Tax School Coordinator